Trapezoidal Spreader for Agricultural Application

May 2020 - Apr 2021

India is agriculturally based country. Our economy is also depending on agricultural related product. With conventional method farmers are facing the problem like non uniform distribution of fertilizer. For developing our economic condition, it is necessary to increase our agricultural productivity & quality also. Now a day, we are used to do spreading of fertilizer in traditional way which is time consuming & also not comfort to the labor. So, what we need is alternative to the tractor...
