Menstrual Management

This will give you an idea about:

- Length of your menstrual cycle
- Number of days you bleed
- Tracking your menstrual cycle will help you to stay prepared for the next menstruation

Tracking is important to understand our cycle, as well as to have healthy periods. Missing periods or having prolonged periods are causes of:

- PCOS
- Thyroid disorders
- Uterine fibroids
- Diabetes
- Endometriosis
- PID (Pelvic Inflammatory Disease)

The average menstrual cycle is 28 days long.

It usually happens between 21-40 days.

A menstrual cycle is counted from the first day of one menstruation to the first day of the next menstruation.

Causes of Abnormal Menstruation

Causes

Polycystic ovary syndrome

In polycystic ovary syndrome (PCOS), the ovaries make large amounts of androgens, which are male hormones. Small fluid-filled sacs (follicles) may form in the ovaries. These can often be seen on an ultrasound. The hormonal changes can prevent eggs from maturing, and so ovulation may not take place consistently. Sometimes a woman with polycystic ovary syndrome will have irregular periods or stop menstruating completely. In addition, the condition is associated with obesity, infertility and hirsutism (excessive hair growth and acne). This condition may be caused by a hormonal imbalance, although the exact cause is unknown.

Premature ovarian insufficiency

This condition occurs in women under age 40 whose ovaries do not function normally. The menstrual cycle stops, similar to menopause. This can occur in patients who are being treated for cancer with chemotherapy and radiation, or if you have a family history of premature ovarian insufficiency or certain chromosomal abnormalities.

Pelvic inflammatory disease

Pelvic inflammatory disease (PID) is a bacterial infection that affects the female reproductive system. Bacteria may enter the vagina via sexual contact and then spread to the uterus and upper genital tract. Bacteria might also enter the reproductive tract via gynecologic procedures or through childbirth, miscarriage, or abortion. Symptoms of PID include a heavy vaginal discharge with an unpleasant odor, irregular periods, pain in the pelvic and lower abdominal areas, fever, nausea, vomiting, or diarrhea.
